

CASTLEMAINE STATE FESTIVAL CODE OF CONDUCT

PREAMBLE

The CSF Volunteer Code of Conduct sets out the standards of behaviour required of any person who becomes a volunteer for the festival. The code is designed to ensure that, as a CSF volunteer, you are aware of your obligations and responsibilities.

The Volunteer Code of Conduct is in addition to the CSF Code of Conduct. Where any inconsistencies between the two codes may exist in all cases the general Code of Conduct will be seen to override all subsidiary policies. If you would like a copy of the CSF Code of Conduct please ask the Volunteers Coordinator.

By accepting the intent of this code and through complying with its provisions, as a CSF volunteer, you acknowledge your status as a representative for the CSF. Adherence to the CSF code of conduct is a requirement for all volunteers.

CODE OF CONDUCT

It is expected that, as a volunteer you will:

- Take care and diligence in fulfilling the functions of your volunteer role and in exercising the powers attached to that role
- Make every effort to uphold the overall vision and mission of the CSF

CASTLEMAINE STATE FESTIVAL EQUAL OPPORTUNITY AND ANTI-HARASSMENT

PREAMBLE

Castlemaine State Festival is an equal opportunity employer consisting of and engaging with workers and community members from a range of cultural backgrounds and identities. It is the policy of the CSF to provide equal opportunity for all employees and volunteers in an atmosphere free of discrimination.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY AND ANTI-DISCRIMINATION

Discrimination on the basis of; race, sex, age, marital status, religious belief or activity, industrial activity, political opinion or activity, national extraction, social origin, disability, parental status or status as a carer, pregnancy or breast feeding, lawful sexual activities or physical features is unlawful.

Discrimination by a staff member or volunteer of CSF against another staff member or volunteer on the basis of any of the attributes set out above will be considered misconduct on the part of the staff member or volunteer and will not be tolerated by CSF.

ANTI-HARASSMENT

Harassment of any kind, whether relating to bullying, sexual harassment or other behaviour normally unacceptable in a workplace, is contrary to the vision, mission and principles of the CSF and is actively discouraged by CSF.

Harassment and bullying can be overt in the form of teasing, badgering or directly insulting and belittling. It can also take the form of exclusion and rejection in the workplace or the association's activities through non provision of reasonable support, direction or access.

PROCEDURE

As a preventative measure CSF has undertaken:

- To be vigilant about acting on the "warning signals" of discrimination or sexual harassment e.g. sudden absences on stress leave
- To ensure that the workplace is free of objectionable posters or other material
- To make it clear that discriminatory behaviour will be treated as serious misconduct.

If a volunteer feels that he or she has been harassed or bullied they should bring it to the attention of the Volunteer Coordinator. The complaint will then be dealt with promptly and confidentially in accordance with the procedures outlined in the Volunteer Grievance Resolution Procedure.

CASTLEMAINE STATE FESTIVAL GRIEVANCE RESOLUTION PROCEDURE

PREAMBLE

This procedure aims to provide a structured approach to resolving workplace issues that is fair and equitable and which leads to solutions that are acceptable to all parties. This specifically includes disputes arising between volunteers and CSF, including CSF staff members. This policy does not apply to criminal behaviour e.g. assault of any nature. These will be referred directly to the police.

PROCEDURE

In common with our paid staff, volunteers have the right to express complaints, grievances, concerns or dissatisfaction with any aspect of the CSF's practices and programs without fear of reprisal or adverse consequences. The CSF is committed to providing a fair, equitable and transparent process for dealing with complaints.

If a volunteer wishes to express their dissatisfaction they must do so through the appropriate complaints procedure. Raising complaints outside the organisation's complaints procedure may incur disciplinary or other action, particularly if in breach of the Privacy and Confidentiality guidelines.

Procedure for resolving disputes:

1. Raise concern with your immediate supervisor for investigation or mediation. If there is no suitable resolution from this process, then:
2. Raise concern with the Volunteer Coordinator for further investigation or mediation. If there is no suitable resolution from this process, then:
3. Raise concern with the General Manager for further investigation or mediation. If there is no suitable resolution from this process, then the concern will be escalated to the Castlemaine State Festival Board for further investigation or mediation.

Some disputes are not able to be resolved internally and either the volunteer or the organisation may choose to take the problem to an external authority.

CASTLEMAINE STATE FESTIVAL FESTIVAL FEEDBACK PROCEDURE

PREAMBLE

These guidelines aim to:

- Ensure CSF staff and volunteers understand their responsibilities in handling feedback
- Ensure complaints are resolved promptly, effectively and fairly
- Help resolve complaints to the satisfaction of the parties as far as is reasonable, and mitigate any negative repercussions for the organisation
- Assist with making decisions to redress any dissatisfaction and prevent similar issues in the future
- Confirm CSF's commitment to quality services.

DEFINITION

CSF considers that a legitimate festival complaint is any reasonable incident, action, or process that has detracted from a member of the public's experience or enjoyment of the festival in some way.

PROCEDURE

Generally, the remedy of complaints is the responsibility of management. Volunteers should refer the matter to their supervisor or the Volunteer Coordinator. It is important that volunteers recognise where responsibility rests for handling feedback and complaints. For example, a volunteer should not accept or admit liability on behalf of the CSF.

While it is encouraged that straightforward complaints are resolved at the first point of contact, it is extremely important that volunteers do not exceed their authority in forming responses to public grievances. If there is any doubt whatsoever, further instruction should immediately be sought from a relevant superior.

If the volunteer discerns that they have the authority, knowledge, or means to responsibly deal with a complaint to the mutual satisfaction of both parties, the complaint is to be dealt with accordingly, and acknowledged promptly in writing by completing a festival feedback form.

All completed festival feedback forms are to be provided to the General Manager for registration. Furthermore, a copy of any written complaint received is to be attached to the corresponding complaint form, which is included in Venue Boxes.
